OFFICERS: Jane Bailey Bailey, President
Donald Pierce Blake, Vice-president
Suzanne Lamble, Treasurer
Carole Nunley Weiss, Secretary
Norma Sellars Grabenstein, Member-at-Large
John Wright Butler, Past President

CLARENDON COURIER: Editor, Beverly Tetterton

OBJECTIVES: To collect, preserve, and disseminate knowledge and information with reference to genealogical and related historical, biographical, and heraldic data; to encourage and promote interest in genealogical research, to adhere to principles of accuracy and thoroughness in research; to champion ethical standards and to discourage and oppose incompetent and disreputable practices of researchers; to foster careful publications, to encourage, and provide scholarly training for all interested in these endeavors.

MEMBERSHIP: The membership of the Society is open to all individuals and organizations interested in genealogy upon payment of dues which are renewed annually on the anniversary of the original membership. Dues are: Individual and Institutional- $15.00; Family- $20.00; Life- $225.00. Mail dues to CNHGS Secretary at the above address. Members are encouraged to submit surnames of the families that they are researching to be included in the Society's ancestor roster. They also receive a 10% discount on all publications and free queries in the Clarendon Courier.

CLARENDON COURIER: Members receive this quarterly in the Spring, Summer, Fall, and Winter. The deadline for submission of material for publication is February 10, May 10, August 10, and November 10.

MEETINGS: Monthly meetings are held at 7:00 pm on the second Tuesday of the month, September through May. Unless otherwise notified, meetings are held in the large meeting room of the New Hanover County Public Library, 201 Chestnut Street, Wilmington, NC. The computer interest group meets at 6:00 pm in the Library's small meeting room prior to the monthly meetings.

BOOK DEPARTMENT: The Society has for sale 83 genealogical abstracts covering Southeastern, North Carolina. Your membership allows you a 10% discount on all books. Please let us know if you want a book list.

QUERIES: Queries are published free for members. They should be typed or legibly printed on separate sheets of paper, each with the senders name and address. Each query should state geographical connection to Southeastern North Carolina, or adjacent areas, and such dates as place them in context. They are subject to editing. So that the editor will understand them, please do not abbreviate. Mail queries to Van Stilley, Queries Editor, at the above address.

[This list continued from page one, is the second in a series of soldiers who were wounded, captured or killed at the Battle of Fort Fisher. The wounded and captured were sent to Elmira Prison in New York and Point Lookout Prison on the Eastern Shore of Virginia. The following abbreviations are used: Reg. for Regiment; Bat. for Battalion; N.C.T. for North Carolina Troops; N.C.S.T. for North Carolina State Troops; N.C.H. Art. for North Carolina Heavy Artillery; N.C.L. Art. for North Carolina Light Artillery; * indicated that the soldier was killed in action. The 10th Regiment included the 1st NC Artillery, the 36th NC Regiment included the 2nd NC Artillery, and the 40th NC Regiment included the 3rd NC Artillery.]

Wilmington News Dispatch, May 20, 1924

"I am proud to state that Christopher C. Bland was my father, and I have thought many times that I would go to Fort Fisher as that is where he lost his foot in January of 1865," writes T.L. Bland, of Raleigh, a son of the Confederate hero, who twice put up the banner of the Confederacy after it had been shot down by Union forces during the attack.

This statement is contained in a letter received by Frank Gregson, manager of the Orton Hotel. Christopher C. Bland died several years ago. T.L. Bland is vice-president and general manager of the Interstate Hotel Company, operators of the Sir Walter Raleigh, at Raleigh, and the Robert E. Lee at Winston-Salem, and others.

NEW HANOVER COUNTY COURT OF PLEAS & QUARTER SESSIONS

[This series of New Hanover County Court Minutes submitted by Helen Moore Sammons is continued from the Fall 1996 Courier. The Court Minutes prior to 1800 were abstracted many years ago by Alexander Walker. They are available in four volumes and can be purchased from ONHGS. Mrs. Sammons began her series in 1805. Spelling was recorded as seen and a _____ is given when the abstractor found the minutes impossible to read.]

Thus ends the series of New Hanover County Court Minutes 1805-1808. The editor thanks Mrs. Sammons for her faithful contributions to the Courier over the past years.

NEW HANOVER COUNTY DEED BOOK C

[Many of the earliest records of New Hanover county were destroyed by courthouse fires. What was left of the first two deed books, A and B, were combined to form Book AB. They have been abstracted and published by ONHGS member Mae Blake Graves. New Hanover County was formed in 1729 from Craven County. Bladen and Onslow Counties were formed out of New Hanover in 1734, Duplin County in 1750, Brunswick County in 1764, part of New Hanover was annexed by Sampson County in 1795, and last but not least, Pender County was formed in 1875. The following abstracts of Deed Book C, which covers many of the earliest records of the above mentioned counties, was compiled by Ida Brooks Kellam in 1939. Continued from the FALL 1996 Courier.]

Communities of Scott's Hill and Hampstead, N.C. -- 1905
Prosperous Towns of Pretty Homes

Scotts Hill, N.C., April 2, 1905. Scotts Hill is the prettiest place on the New Bern branch of the Atlantic Coastline Railroad, and the beautiful homes resplendent in harmonious coloring, with generous green lawns, are shaded by stalwart oaks, poplars and pines. The Foy estate is only a few rods from New Hanover, and in Pender county, and the big white home with broad stairway leading to the second story with hospitable doorway and big curtained windows, fronted by an expanse of green, and circling carriage way is an ideal Southern plantation home, with great spreading oaks, four or five feet through, and poplars and pines towering 80 feet high. Beautiful Jerseys add coloring to the lots at the barns, where big oaks grow, and wells of crystal purity are found in the shade; cultivated fields extend beyond the big vegetable gardens, and woods horizon the scene. This is the home of the Hon. Joseph T. Foy, who was born here, and so was his father, Joseph M. Foy, and his grandfather, James Foy, lived on the place half his life. It is worthy of note that Cornelius Harnett owned a part of the present place which encompasses 815 acres, but Mr. Foy owns about 1,500 acres, including splendid timber. The big house looks as if finished yesterday, but it was built 55 years ago. It has eleven rooms and twelve big fireplaces, and is the embodiment of peace and comfort. Therein for half a century has been Scott's Hill post office. Mrs. Foy looks after Uncle Sam as well as her own household, with great ability. Hon. J.T. Foy was a state senator, has also been a member of the house, and county commissioner for twelve years, chairman of the board eight years, and is a representative Southern gentleman to the core. His farm foreman, D.R. Ornsby, has been with him a dozen years and raises about everything from peas to peanuts, and Mr. Foy is the champion sweet potato grower. Mr. Foy's nephew, Robert Lee Foy, is a young gentleman of excellent promise, who will go to the A. and M. College this fall.

W.B. Canady has a snug little home always well supplied with solids and delicacies and 300 acres, 60 in cultivation, with lots of potatoes, and beans, and 21 acres in peanuts. He has Jersey stock, and the seven year old male he says, is as gentle as a lamb, and he has a store and Mrs. Canady has lots of chickens which keep her "shooing" early and late. Mr. Canady was a member of the Fourth N.C. in the sixties and after the war he and Squire Blossom, of Castle Haynes, did some "wrecking" on the coast. He is an energetic, go-ahead citizen and a pleasant gentleman.

Francis M. Foy has a very attractive home and a finely cultivated farm, with truck, general crops, and about 60 acres in peanuts. He has sold 945 acres of woodland, but has plenty left.

Jasper Sidbury has a beautiful place, formerly the home of Dr. J.C. Shepard, and Newton Sidbury owns the old home of Ex-Congressman and Major C.W. McClammy. The largest farm in the section is one mile from Scott's Hill, by the A.C.L. north, and was formerly owned by Luke McClammy, father of the major, and is now the property of George A. Huggins, who owns thousands of acres. R.K. Bryan, of Scotts Hill, has 10 acres in various crops; has a store; has lately become attorney at law, and is quite successful in real estate.

Hampstead, four miles away, has no telegraph or telephone, but is the biggest shipper between Wilmington and Jacksonville. It has a station without a waiting room, and is called a flag station, but nearly all passenger trains stop because there's something doing. It ships rosin and turpentine, lumber and cotton and fruit, and brings in considerable merchandise. Mrs. Rachel Howard owns the lots on one side of the tract and D. Sanders on the other, and the surveyor is now here to stop contention about a disputed line.

D. Sanders, who was born near Hampstead, and for 29 years has had his home in the village, is adding to and improving his cottage, which was the Jennett house away over a century ago, and Major McClammy said he had ample proof of the fact that General Washington not only ate but slept in that which is now the Sanders home. Mr. Sanders has thirty acres in peanuts, three in potatoes and will have a number in corn, and he has a little store he started fifteen years ago, and is apportioning half acre lots to make Hampstead grow.

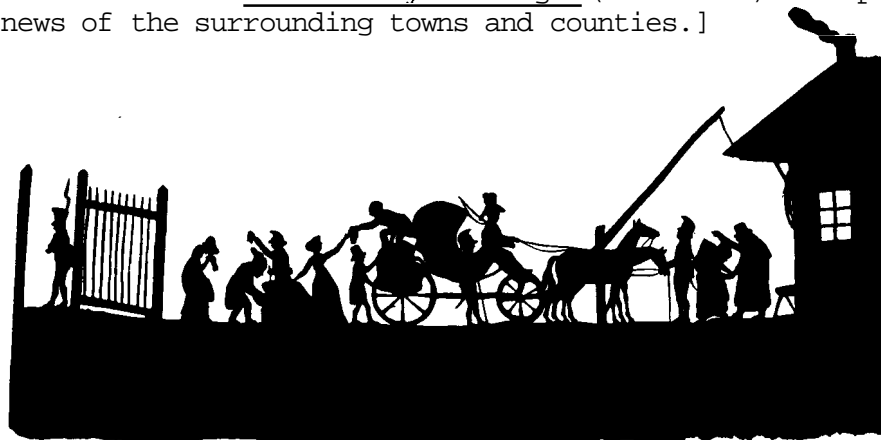

W.B. Simmons has a busy saw mill and about a dozen cottages at Hampstead, and is a regular hustler. His mill gets out 15,000 feet of boards per day for the Hannah Box Company, of Wilmington, and he has a store, and will build a larger one. He has six horses and mules and eight oxen, and sells and ships an A No. 1 potato barrel. He files, hammers and saws, and he owns timber land and farms in Pitt county. He has a first rate right hand man in Thomas O. Sale, also from Pitt county, and he is another man of vim and enterprise, being an accountant, store and yard manager, and postmaster, and he has interest in land in Pitt county, and although only two years in the lumber business he is first clear and no bark.

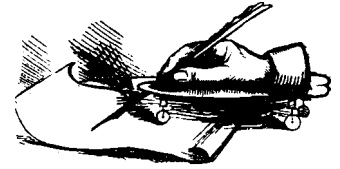

Mr. F.R. Mallard was lately married to Miss Susie Dale, of Pitt county, and a brand new cottage is being hurried to completion for their honeymoon. W.S. Rochelle who has a good business at Harrison Creek will build a store at Hampstead, and J.W. Westbrook, who owns about 800 acres at Harrison Creek and raises a six horse crop, will buy and build at Hampstead. Building would go on faster if the village had a telephone or telegraph, and it needs greatly extension of siding, and the ban of flag station should be lifted.

J.W. Westbrook was born in New Hanover County, and has been farming all of his life. He started a store at Harrison's Creek 20 years ago, where he rents for the time being, and the travelling public utilize his store as a waiting room, but, being of a genial nature, he doesn't kick. Mr. Westbrook was postmaster "at the creek" 20 years and was deputy sheriff. His ambition is to become mayor of Hampstead when it gets big enough.

At Hampstead people of the Mormon faith have a neat little painted building devoted to church as well as school purposes "free for all" and at the play hours nineteen husky boys and girls are playing hide and seek like other Americans.

[One wonders if these folks could see the Hampstead area now, recently designated the fastest growing place in North Carolina! This is the first in a series of Lower Cape Fear communities in 1905. This description, submitted by Bill Reaves comes from the Semi-Weekly Messenger (4-28-1905) newspaper which carried the news of the surrounding towns and counties.]

ANCESTORS

The long awaited Public Television series Ancestors begins airing on Sunday, January 6, 1997 at 6:30 pm. Through the use of stories of people whose lives have been changed through family history research, the programs expose the researcher to experts who give practical instruction on how viewers can begin searching for their own roots. Episode 1: "Getting Started" explores the question, "Who am I?" Genealogist Desmond Allen gives tips on how to start your research and how to use a pedigree chart. Episode 2: "Looking at Home." An Oregon divorcee learns how to get started in her farm home full of artifacts to find clues about her family's past. Episode 3: "Gathering Family Stories." Fabiana Chiu delves into the memories of older family members in learning her Chinese and Peruvian heritage. Episode 4: "The Paper Trail." A descendant of an Ellis Island immigrant recreates his ancestors experience. Experts detail how to search existing records. Episode 5: "Libraries and Archives." It takes the fear out of library and archive research, showing how Tom Madrid started out in his local library in Colorado and found out more about his Hispanic heritage. Episode 6: "Census and Military Records." It shows how a Vietnam veteran who was having doubts about the public reaction to his military service found 27 ancestors who served their country and changed his self image. Curt Wicher of the Allen County Public Library in Fort Wayne, Ind., details how to explore census and military records. (Continued on next page.)

Episode 7: "African American Families." A genealogy group in south central Los Angeles demonstrates how to overcome the obstacles to African-American research. Episode 8: "Your Medical Heritage." It probes the potential of family medical pedigrees, as Carol Krause literally saves her life and the lives of her sisters. Episode 9: "High Tech Help." In a surprising episode, even hardened criminals use computer technology to help find ancestors. Episode 10: "Leaving a Legacy." It makes you think about leaving something for your descendants to know you by, such as filming your family reunions.

This series will eventually be available for purchase and the Public Library intends to buy it. For now, happy watching and ancestor hunting!

 Genealogy Notes from the New Hanover Public Library *****

Bill Reaves is truly back in the swing of preparing his miscellaneous family histories. The following family files have recently been added to the collection: Boney, David, Einstein, Eilers, Goodman, Greenewald, Hanstein, Heinsberg, Hill, Jacobi, Katz, Kidder, Loeb, Marks, Mendelsohn, McKeithan, McNeal, McNeill, Odom/Odam, Opper, Penvv, Price, Rheinstein, Shrier, Solomon, Sternberger, Stevenson, Tabb, Watters, Waters. If you want a copy of a family file, send a self-addressed, stamped, legal size envelope to Local History Room, New Hanover Public Library, 201 Chestnut Street, Wilmington, NC 28401. The library staff will let you know the cost of photocopying the file (.15 per page and postage and handling). Good to have you back Bill!!

The library will begin a new series of local history classes on Thursday February 6, 1997 at 10:00 am. "Geography of the Lower Cape Fear" will be taught by Dr. Frank Ainsley, Earth Sciences professor at UNC-W. Frank will discuss the land formation of the region, place names, how towns and cities grew, and will focus on the historical geography of places like the Hugh McRae colonies. The lecture series will run for five weeks. Admission is free and open to the public. Come and learn about "the lay of the land" of your ancestors.

 WELCOME NEW MEMBERS *****

Our secretary Carole Weiss reports that the society has 12 new members. From Wilmington we welcome Edward L. Mahoney, Philip L. Dresser, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Edwards, and C.L. "Pete" Davis, Jr. Out-of-town new members include David Page of Orange Park, Florida; Robert E. Williamson of Seaford, Virginia; Claudyne S. Brock of Raeford, North Carolina; John E. Leonard of O'Fallon, Missouri; Alice Starling of Orlando, Florida; Charles Roof of Southport, North Carolina; Lorene B. Potter of Leland, North Carolina; and Fred M. Hinze, Jr. of Richlands, North Carolina. Let us hear from you! Perhaps we can share our common ancestors.

Due to the shortage of space in this Courier the series of Brunswick County, North Carolina, Land Grant Book "A" will be continued in the Spring 1997 Courier. The editor thanks Helen Moore Sammons, Bill Reaves, Gerry McKenzie, and Carole Weiss for contributing to this issue. The Clarendon Courier is published quarterly. The deadline for the next issue is February 10, 1997. To order back issues send $3.00 per issue or $12.00 per year.
